Among the major new features of Python 3.7 are: PEP 539, new API for thread-local storage PEP 545, Python documentation translations New documentation translations: Japanese, French, and Korean. PEP 552, Deterministic pyc files PEP 553, Built-in breakpoint() PEP 557, Data Classes PEP 560, Core support for typing module and generic types PEP 562, Customization of access to module attributes PEP 563, Postponed evaluation of annotations PEP 564, Time functions with nanosecond resolution PEP 565, Improved DeprecationWarning handling PEP 567, Context Variables Avoiding the use of ASCII as a default text encoding (PEP 538, legacy C locale coercion and PEP 540, forced UTF-8 runtime mode) The insertion-order preservation nature of dict objects is now an official part of the Python language spec. Notable performance improvements in many areas. Please see WhatÃÂÂs New In Python 3.7 for more information. Changed in 3.7.4 OpenSSL has been updated from 1.1.0 to 1.1.1 and SQLite updated to 3.28.0. The binaries for AMD64 will also work on processors that implement the Intel 64 architecture. (Also known as the "x64" architecture, and formerly known as both "EM64T" and "x86-64".) There are now "web-based" installers for Windows platforms; the installer will download the needed software components at installation time. There are redistributable zip files containing the Windows builds, making it easy to redistribute Python as part of another software package. Please see the documentation regarding Embedded Distribution for more information. Changed in 3.7.4 OpenSSL has been updated from 1.1.0 to 1.1.1 and SQLite updated to 3.28.0. For Python 3.7.4, we provide two binary installer options for download. The default variant is 64-bit-only and works on macOS 10.9 (Mavericks) and later systems. Changed in 3.7.4 The 64-bit/32-bit variant that also works on very old versions of macOS, from 10.6 (Snow Leopard) on, is now deprecated and will no longer be provided in future releases; see the macOS installer ReadMe file for more info. Help us make Spyder even better for everyone! Executionables are signed by origin and signed by the release manager or by the bamory builder using their OpenPGP key. The release files for currently supported launders are signed by the following: liberation files for older launders that have now reached the end of life may have been signed by one of the following items : You can import the pills of a person from a person from a pilling key server that you trust running a command such as: GPG-RECV-KEYS [key] or, in many cases, pills billets can also also be found in keybase.io. In Version Download Phaginas, you must see a link to the download file and an isolated subscription file. To verify the authenticity of the download, get both files and run this command: GPG-Verify Python-3.6.2.tgz.asc Note that you must use the signature file name and you should use what is appropriate for The download you are checking. (These instructions are focused on GNUPG and Unix command line.) Other items are looking for third party python duty? The package is many of them. You can view the standard documentation on -line or the download from HTML, Postscript, PDF and other formats. See the main documentation page. Tool Information to unzip file files provided on Python.org are disposingable. Tip: Even if you download a ready -made bam to your platform, it makes sense to download the source. This allows you to browse the standard library (the LIB subdirect) and the patterns of demos and tools (tools) that accompany you. A lot that you can learn from the source! There is also a collection of EMACS packages that EMACSING Pythoneer may find it. This includes main modes for editing Python, C, C ++, Java, etc., interfaces Python debugger and more. Most packages are compatible with EMACs and Xemacs. Want to contribute? Want to contribute? See the Python developer’s guide to learn about how Python development is
